TO THE WEST! TO THE WEST!

Before making your arrangements to follow the advice of the "thousands who have already gone," it would be well to consider what has been done to make the journey to your "Homes in the West" as pleasant and free from danger as human skill and foresight can accomplish.

By consolidation and construction, a road has been put into operation on the shortest possible line from Nashville, Tenn., to St. Louis, "the future great City of the world." This line, the has, during the past year, earned an enviable reputation by its smooth track, prompt time, sure connections, and the magnificence of its passenger equipment. Its trains are made up of new and commodious day cars, provided with the celebrated Miller coupler and platform, and the Westinghouse air-brake.

ST. LOUIS & SOUTHEASTERN RAILWAY,

It is positively the only line running Pullman Palace Drawing-Room Sleepin Cars through without change from Nashville to St. Louis. No other line pretend to offer such advantages, either in distance, time, or equipment. Why, then, journey by circuitous routes? Do not be induced to purchase tickets to St. Louis or the West by any other line, remember that is the shortest, cheapest, quickest, best and only line under one management from Nashville to St. Louis, and is from 60 to 200 miles the shortest to St. Louis, Kansas City, Omaha, Denver, California, Texas, and all western points. It is also the "Chicago Shortest Line," via Evansville.

The "St. Louis & Southeastern"

You can secure the cheapest rates for yourselves and your movables on application, in person or by letter, to CHARLES McCABE, Southern Passenger Agent, near College street Depot, Nashville, Tenn., or to the undersigned.

The Evening Post.

WILMINGTON, N. C.

Thursday, September 18th, 1873.

To Wide Awake Business Men.

As the business season is opening, the question of advertising comes up before every energetic dealer in the city, as the certain means of increasing trade, and it is to his interest also to put his money "where it will do the most good." This is not a question of politics, but one of policy. Advertisements are inserted to be read, and by the more people the better. It is also the life of a paper. Without it, no paper could be published in this State, and with it, there is generally a struggle to preserve a bore existence. Every newspaper is published to supply a certain want of the community in which it is located, and to reach buyers, a man should advertise in the paper read by those whom he desires to influence.

THE POST being an evening paper, contains the news up to the hour of going to press, and as a local paper, is of great benefit to this community. It claims to be valuable to every one having the welfare of the City. at heart, and, we are happy to says, receives its share of public patronage. THE POST is carefully read by a large number of our citizens every day, and is, in numerous instances, carried home from the stores at the close of the day and read at night, by those whose duties preclude the careful reading of morning papers. As an advertising medium therefore, we claim it to be valuable.

The efficacy of advertising is so apparent to every one, that we do not deem it necessary to enlarge upon that point, but we desire to advance our claims for patronage among those wide awake business men who sell goods cheap and want the people to know it. To this class alone is this article addressed. Liberal support to the local press, is sure to meet a fair return, and as the business of a city is judged by the advertising columns of a daily paper, and as every paper in the city labors for the welfare of the city, it should receive the support of those most benefitted by its labors.

There is not a matter of public importance from Water Works to Railroads but what, if deemed for the benefit of the city, is advocated by the press of the city, and aided gratuitously day after day. This is so common, that it is expected of a newspaper, though there may not be one dollar of personal pecuniary benefit to the publishers in the object advocated. The papers of this city, each do more than one hundred dollars worth of gratuitous work for the Cape Fear Agricultural Association every year, because they are laboring for the welfare of this section of the State. Without this assistance on the part of the city press, our Fair might prove a failure, and yet there are many people who think an editor is troubled to find matter for his paper and merely put them in to "fill up."

We claim that the press of this city deserve liberal patronage from the merchants, for they in turn, labor for the benefit of the merchants. Each should help the other. The POST occupies a field by itself. It is the only evening daily in the State, and is devoted solely to the interests of this section of the State. Its readers generally are cash buyers. It not only has a larger circulation among the mechanics and laborers of the city than any other daily in the State, but circulates largely among our citizens of a different political faith, who are liberal minded enough to read papers of both political parties. This class of men are always cash buyers, and the POST reaches them every evening. The POST has gained subscribers every business day for the past month, and its growth is healthy and sure. Wise business men will avail themselves of its columns, to make known their business. We have received repeated assurances of the truth of these statements by many of the leading Democrats of this city who have availed themselves of our columns, and we are happy to be the instrument of bringing cash buyers and liberal dealers together.

The Raleigh News says: Judging from the amount of business doing in the Superior Court Clerk's office, and also the Sheriff's office, the law business must be brisk in Wake county. There is already enough business docketed to occupy the full two weeks term of Wake Court which is yet more than a month off. Four terms of the court is just enough if Raleigh had a criminal court for the trial of its own cases.

He hopes an explanation will be made which will clear up all obscurities and free the political situation from all ambiguity.

— The body of General Edwin S. McCook was laid in the consistory of the Scottish rite in the Masonic Temple Tuesday at Cincinnati, and was viewed by vast numbers of people. The funeral services took place in the temple according to the Masonic ritual in charge of the Knights Templars. The funeral cortege consisted of a squad of police, Newport barracks band, a detachment of regulars from the barracks followed by the Sir Knights of Columbia and Hasselmann commanderies and a large number of Master Masons. Everywhere the people thronged the streets to witness the moving of the solemn cortege. The body was interred in the family vaults in Spring cemetery.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 16.

W. D. Flannery, Superintendent, Philadelphia:

A meeting will be held in Philadelphia to-morrow in aid of the Shreveport sufferers. I have promised to transfer the money subscriptions by telegraph without charge.

PUBLIC MEETING.

ALL GOOD CITIZENS are hereby requested to assemble

At the City Court Room, Thursday Night at 8:00 o'clock.

To devise some means for the relief of the citizens of Shrevesport, La., who are suffering from the scourge of Yellow Fever.

In the dark hours of our distress, when this terrible scourge was devasting our city our neighboring cities assisted us with money, provisions and nurses, without which many more would have died. It now becomes our duty to aid other cities in similar distress to the full extent of our ability.

No city can appreciate the importance of prompt aid more thoroughly than Wilmington, and no city owes more to suffering humanity.

This call is made at the request of a large number of prominent citizens, and it is hoped there will be a full attendance.

WE WISH our Mayor would enforce the vagrant act. It is a matter of much importance. The present crowded condition of our jail is a sufficient proof of the necessity of some action to prevent crime. Let us have all idlers at work.

AN adjourned meeting of the Produce Exchange was held this morning at 12 o'clock, to adopt the by-laws and Constitution. Dr. W. W. Harris, Jno. D. Woody Esq., and J. J. Scott Esq., were elected Judges of Election.

FOUL ROBBERY.—Last night some one entered the chicken coop of one of our vigilant knights of the star, and carried off thirteen hens and a rooster while the policeman was in his house locked in the arms of Morpheous. This is we think defying the law.

NEW WAGON.—Mr. Latham, the energetic and courteous agent for the Southern Express Company at this place, has found it necessary on account of the increased trade of this city to procure a larger and much stronger wagon for the hauling of their freight.

SHREVEPORT SUFFERERS.—Pursuant to a call of the Produce Exchange quite a number of our citizens met at the rooms of the Produce Exchange at 11 o'clock, but adjourned without doing anything and will attend the public meeting to-night at the City Court room called by the Mayor.

RUNAWAY.—The city fiery and untamed steed took fright somewhere on Fourth Street this morning and tore frantically down Fourth Street in the direction of the City Hall. The shafts of the buggy were attached to him and we suppose that pieces of the buggy will be picked up along the line of the run during the day.

NEWS is scarce to-day, but local columns have to be filled up whether any thing occurs or not. It would be greatly to the advantage of locals, if people would suffer more accidents or do something wonderful every day. To be sure there are many kind people who do make items for us occasionally, but like Oliver Twist, we are constantly asking for "more." Even the Magistrates courts are comparatively dull today, and "nary" dog fight or row to speak of in the city.

THE TOWN CRIER.

— Mild.

— Gold is 111.

— No mail last night.

— Now is the time to advertise removals.

— Don't forget the public meeting to-night.

— We are having most delightful weather.

— Business opening, with light areas of cash.

— Oysters bashfully putting in an appearance.

— Shrimps, large and delicious are in the market.

— Merchants are generally north selecting goods.

— Unhappy is the man who neglected to list his taxes.

— Try the artificial stone. It is said to be a "big thing."

— It is said that borux will drive away cockroaches. Good.

— What arrangements are being made in Raleigh for the press gang?

— Blue Lodge, third degree to-night. The music is ordered to appear.

— The best way to sell merchandise is "half cash and the balance when you deliver the goods,"

No man with a heart in his bosom who knows of the terrible order this city endured during the war when pestilence stalked about the streets, and death was in every household, can but sympathize with Shreveport now in a similar condition. As our neighboring cities then came to our assistance, giving of their means, let our city now reciprocate. No sacrifice of life is asked, though many noble souls perished here, who came to relieve the sufferings of the dying, but money is needed and and much should be raised. Many of our merchants are already subscribing. Let there be a full attendance at the city court room to-night, that the amount may be swelled to a magnificent gift, that those who sacrificed for us, may know that we have not forgotten their charity. The time has come for us to repay our indebtedness. Let it be liquidated, prompt, speedy, liberally.

The October number of Harper's Magazine is crowded with fresh and entertaining matter, and contains over sixty finely executed engravings.

The number opens with an illustrated paper, by Marie Howland, especially interesting to those ladies in our rural districts who may wish to turn their attention to the scientific cultivation of hens. It is entitled "A Lady's Enterprise," and describes the Baroness De Lina's poulty establishment at Belair, in France. Among the novel features of the paper are the descriptions of the baroness's poukaille roulant, or traveling hen-house, and of the 'epinette, a me chanical contrivance for the fattening of fowls, used at the Paris Gardens of Acclimatation. Illustrations are given of these novelties, and of the most remarkable breeds of poultry.

An interesting article, full of anecdotes of "Detective Pinkerton," is contributed by General Randolpy B. Marcy. "The Judicial Record of the late Chief Justice" is ably treated in a comprehensive and very valuable paper by John S. Benson. Emilio Castelar's "Republican Movement in Europe" is continued, and another instalment is given of the "Recollection of an Old Stager."

Charles Reade's novel, "A Simpleton," is concluded in this number. The publishers announce that this is to be immediately followed by a thrilling serial story, "The Living Link," by the author of "The Dodge Club," illustrated by W, E. Shepard, and that in an early number will be commenced "My Mother and I," a love story for girls, by the author of "John Halifax Gentleman."

Three interesting novelettes are contributed for this number—"A Loss to the Professor," by Mrs. Frank M'Carthy; "Who was Right?" by D. R. Castleton; and "Dat Taddeus," a bright little juvenile skeich, by Ellis Gray, with an excellent illustration by C. S. Reinhart.

The five editorial departments maintain their usual standard of excellence; and it is especially noticeable that the editor's Historical Record—the only monthly summary of events that is anywhere published—is being continually improved in its scope and thoroughness of treatment. This department has been continued from the first number of the Magazine, and—taking the entire series—is invaluable for reference.

During the last week, Councils of the Friends of Temperance were organized at Owensville, Sampson county; Blockersville, Cumberland county, and Burns', Moore county, by Mr. W. W. McKenzie, State Lecturer.

Our New Buildings.

Prominent among the new buildings erected this season is the one on the corner of Front and Princess streets, to be occupied by B. Weill, who by the by, is now moving in. A description will be interesting. Entering the main entrance, we see the retail sales room, 28 feet wide by 86 feet long. The cornices above the shelving and counters are of new and handsome designs, the panel work painted a delacate tint of blue, surrounded with a gilt moulding, and the balance of the wood work and carvings, pure white. Here will be offered a full and complete line of every article of ladies wear in great variety of quality and price. In the rear of this room are the offices, book-keeper's desk, counting room, private office, etc. Ascending a very broad and comfortable staircase to the second story, we find now stored ready for sale, a very heavy stock of dry goods and notions for the wholesale trade. Here are the thousands of articles necessary to be kept for the accommodation of country merchants.—The third floor is filled with a general assortment of boots, shoes, hats, caps, blankets, etc., for sale exclusively at wholesale. Vast cases of these goods are already in position and more coming by every steamer. Near the rear of the building is an elevator by which goods are raised to the second and third floors or lowered to the basement which is on the level with the street at the lower end, and where all the packing is done. Drays can come to the back door of this room, and receive their loads for shipment. Mr. Weill is still North, purchasing goods, and his large establishment is a monument of his energy and heavy trade. A notice of his stock will appear hereafter.

"THE HEIRESS IN THE FAMILY," by Mrs. MacKenzie Daniel, is an excellent Story, which opens and ends in a rural part of England. The incidents in this unusually well constructed tale are moderately sensational, yet entirely probable, and the various situations are skillfully presented. The Heiress, youngest daughter of a retired barrister, has the good fortune to have lately been bequeathed a large landed property This retiring, yet enthusiastic and somewhat romantic heroine, is kept very much in the back ground by her sisters; one, betrothed to a clergyman, is somewhat of a formalist; the other, a brilliant beauty, with fascinating manners and a well developed genius for flirtation. The heart struggles of the Heiress are presented to the reader with great delicacy and power.

It is published complete in one large duodecimo volume, bound in morocco cloth, full gilt back, from new designs. Price $1 75. "The Heiress In the Family," will be found for sale at Heinsberger's Live Book Store.

BURGLARY.—Last night the house of James Starkey, a colored man living on Castle between Eighth and Ninth Sts., was burglariously entered and robbed of two large chests, one containing clothing &c., and the other containing among other things, many valuable papers, about ninety dollars in money and a small bag containing about four or five dollars in specie. The house was entered by breaking the glass in a sash, giving the intruders access to the fastening of the same which was removed; they then took the two chests away from the house to a spot about four hundred yards distance where they were rifled of the money and a few small articles, but the papers and clothing were left. Fortunately the bag of specie was not discovered. Starkey did not discover his loss until this morning, and does not know who the robbers are. Officer Nash and detective Sellers made search for the missing chests and discovered them this forenoon as above stated.

We hear of a good many members of Congress who have not yet returned their Back Pay, but now for the first time we hear of a member who has used the ill-got cash to build a monument to perpetuate his own infamy. The Chenango Union informs us that the Hon. E. H. Prindle has invested his share of the grab (say $5,000) in a beautiful brick block in Norwich, which structure is called and known as The Government building. We admit that we rather like Mr. Prindle's pluck. He at least is square and honest in his dishonesty. We hope that the building is a strong one, likely to last for a good while after Prindle has gone to settle the matter elsewhere, and thus remain a warning to all future Prindles.—New York Tribune.

The Raleigh News says that Charles Howard, Esq., of that city, has become the assistant advance agent of the Great Eastern Circus.

And now our State exchanges come to us looking like very picture galleries, teeming as they do with columns of display "adds" of the great circus that will raid through the State next month.

We especially call the attention to the following testimonials of the Paint:

C. P. Knight, Esq.—Dear Sir: I have used Bradley's Patent Enamel Paint on my dwelling last Spring, and am much pleased with it, and it looks as well now as when first painted, and consider it a good Paint. Yours, truly, Creswell P. O., Hartford county, Md., Feb. 6th, 1873. A. H. STRASBAUGH.

THE PLAINS, FAUQUIER CO., VA., Feb. 6th, 1873.

Mr. C. P. Knight—Sir: The Paint came safely to hand as ordered—two kegs, five gallons each, and three buckets, one gallon each. As practice was slack, I did the job myself. Two weeks, (not constant work,) completed the house two coats. The last coat I applied thick, and it is now generally conceded that for enamel-like hardness, and body, and harmony of colors, there is not a handsomer job in the place. I saved sixty-five dollars by the operation, which is an item just now with Southern people. It should be generally adopted in this State. Any country lad can apply it. I have never dabbled in such stock as testimonials, but I feel so forcibly the great adaptability of your "Enamel Paint" to the wants of our people, in excellency of material, in beauty of color, and in the fact of its being "ready mixed" that I give you free permission, (if it is desirable to you,) to make what use you think proper of this letter.

Very respectfully and truly, S. McGILL, M. D.

TO THE PUBLIC—It affords me much pleasure to state that in July, 1871, Front Street Theatre was painted inside and out with "Bradley's Patent Enamel Paint," for which C. P. Knight, No. 93 West Lombard Street, is agent, and, to testify to its superiority over any and all other paints for similar uses. In no private dwelling can paint possibly be subjected to the very severe test it undergoes at this establishment, where, during our daily cleaning, soap and sod are constantly applied to it, and yet it appears as sound and fresh as when put on. Of the numerous advantages it possesses over other paints, I will only mention its being mixed and ready for use in quantities to suit purchasers, its [illegible] properties, which saves much time in the execution of work were paint is needed, and its very [illegible] tenacity, which imparts beauty and durability to the objects on which it is used. As such I most earnestly recommend it to the merchants and tradesmen of our city, believing it will give them greater satisfaction than they can possibly anticipate.

WM. E. SINN,
Front Street Theatre.

BALTIMORE, April 25, 1873.

CHAMBERSBURG, December 10th, 1872.

Mr. C. P. Knight—Dear Sir:—The paints we received from you have been applied to several of our own buildings and to those of our friends, and have given entire satisfaction in covering qualities, in gloss, and in adaptability to all kinds of surface of material and we cheerfully recommend it, especially to that class of consumers who have to depend upon unknown parties, or painters to mix and furnish materials, wherein we have found the most deception.

Yours, truly,
JACOB STOUFFER & SON.

FROM HON. JOHN WETHERED.

M. C. P. Knight:—At the recommendation of a friend, I was induced to apply your paten. "Bradley's" paint to my house. I have pleasure in stating that it has proved highly satisfactory, covering more surface than you promised, is more economical, carries better gloss than ordinary paint, and is freer from disagreeable odor.

Yours, Respectfully,
JOHN WETHERED.

BALTIMORE, December 27th, 1871.

C. P. Knight, Esq., Agent for Bradley's Patent Enamel Paint—Dear Sir:—The paint we purchased from you we will cheefully endorse as the best of any kind we have ever used; its covering qualities is everything desired, drying promptly and with a hard gloss which must, we think, resist the action of all kinds of weather. This is our experience, and we can recommend it with certainty, and intend to use it on all occasions where we desire a good job of work.

Very Respectfully,
EMART & QUARTLEY, 270 W. Baltimore St.
House, Sign and Frescoe Painters.

PLEASANTVILLE, HARTFORD CO., MD.

Mr. C. P. Knight—Dear Sir:—I am very happy to inform you that your "Patent Enamel Paint" has given entire satisfaction. I prefer it to any paint I have ever seen used, and recommend it for durability and beauty as paramount to any other.

Very Respetfully,
R. DICKEY, M. D.

MANAGER POST.

"Unquestionably the best sustained work of the kind in the World."

Harper's Magazine.

NOTICES OF THE PRESS.

The ever-increasing circulation of this excellent monthly, proves its continued adaptation to popular desires and needs.—Indeed, when we think into how many homes it penetrates every month, we must consider it as one of the educators as well as entertainers of the public mind, for its vast popularity has been won by no appeal to stupid prejudices or depraved tastes.—Boston Globe.

The character which this Magazine possesses for variety, enterprise, artistic wealth, and literary culture that has kept pace with, if it has not led the times, should cause its conductors to regard it with justifiable complacency. It also entitles them to a great claim upon the public gratitude. The Magazine has done good and not evil all the days of its life.—Brooklyn Eagle.
